Major Richards called the meeting to order, and read the request for the call of the meeting "to consider the charges made in a com-munication which was published in the Krewing Stor of the 14th instant," signed by Trustee Atlee, Champlain, Lloyd, Harris, Warner, and

Mr. Champlain offered the following : Whereas a communication appeared in the Star of the 14th instant, editorially declared to be from a member of this board, in which communication the charge is made in effect that corrupt means were used to secure the votes of the members of the board for Corwell's Geographies: therefore.

Geographies: therefore,

Resolved, That the author of that communication be, and be hereby is, called upon to present the proof of such charges here and now.

Mr. Harris did not think any member should be thus obliged to criminate himself; he favored an investigating committee.

Mr. French thought the board should dispose of the matter here and now—and the author of the communication, if a member of the board, shoold be allowed, may, required, to criminate the members of the board referred to in the printed article. The resolution does not re-quire any man here to criminate himself, but

Mr. Lloyd said if the author was not man enough to own the communication, the proofs were here from C. S. Noyes, the editor of the Mar, to fix the responsibility.

Dr. Wright favored immediate action.

Mr. Wolf thought the matter was being wrongly pursued. It should be investigated by a committee. If the member is named and sections to offer the proof what is the remedy!

He wanted the matter estiled by commencion. at the right end and not by working backwards Mr. Atlee had originated the call for the Mr. Atice had originated the call for the meeting because the writer seemed competent to substantiate his statements "and more.
